Thank you to all for coming to Back to School Night. I enjoyed meeting everyone and speaking with you about our class.

Please check out the following information about your child's class for next week.

Reading: Students will begin to learn the RACE (Restate, answer, cite evidence, explain) strategy for responding to open-ended questions.

Language Arts: We will begin learning about and writing persuasive essays.

Math: We will be continuing with Chapter 1 of the Go Math Series in which we will learn about algebra, exponents, and multiplication properties.

Social Studies: We will continue working on fine-tuning our Map projects which will be due by Tuesday. Then, we will learn about Pre-Columbian America.

Thanks again for all you do, and have a great weekend!
